Wiccan Movement in Quebec: Portrait D'une Religion De Sorcellerie Contemporaine/A Portrait of a Contemporary Witchcraft Religion (French Edition):

This work is the first in-depth look at contemporary witchcraft, known as Wicca, in the francophone province of Quebec in Canada. Taking an ethnographic approach and placing itself within the context of two different languages and world views, this study evaluates the Wiccan experience in Quebec, arguing that this particular group claims a religious rather than spiritual relation with the world. In French.

"Gagnon carefully maps the dual nature of Wiccan practice, which includes both individual or solitary practitioners and group practice or covens. She makes extensive use of qualitative research methods in an ethnographic tradition, including participant observation, interviews, and focused questionnaires to create a triangulated research methodology." - Lori G. Beaman Canada Research Chair in the Contextualization of Religion in a Diverse Canada University of Iowa "This is the only study of its kind and brings a clear, considered and illuminating view of the specificities of both the Anglophone and francophone practitioners of Wicca and Neo-Paganism." - Dr. Lucie Marie-Mai DuFresne Professor, Department of Classics and Religious Studies University of Ottawa "Mireille Gagnon's investigation carefully documents a syncretistic nature religion close to environmental and feminist sensitivities, alternative worldviews and citizen's politics much in the constellation of Ronald Inglehart's post-materialist culture." - Pauline Cote Faculty of Social Sciences Laval University "About the Author Mireille Gagnon is a Ph.D. candidate in Religious Studies at Laval University in Quebec City.
