Reinhold Niebuhr : Moral Man and Immoral Society: Study in Ethics and Politics (Library of Theological Ethics) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Moral Man and Immoral Society: Study in Ethics and Politics (Library of Theological Ethics):

5 of 5 people found the following review helpful. A classic work of realism By Leon Lam This is the foundation work of political science. Niebuhr's emphasis of selfishness in any social group is now a key tenet of realism. His critical stance on love, morality and benevolence in group thinking is provocative and still relevant. The chapters on the mentality of the privileged class and the inevitability of social inequality are highly persuasive. This book is certainly a must-read for all. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. This is a good book to read

This is a good book to read, we are moral being and the society is designed in a way that we walk away from ethic. It questions everything, read it and have fun with it. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Hard to read but a good challenge for my mind

Hard to read but a good challenge for my mind. Interesting guy. Glad we have more books of his to read.

Moral Man and Immoral Society is Reinhold Niebuhr's important early study in ethics and politics. Forthright and realistic, it discusses the inevitability of social conflict, the brutal behavior of human collectives of every sort, the inability of rationalists and social scientists to even imagine the realities of collective power, and, ultimately, how individual morality can overcome social immorality. The Library of Theological Ethics series focuses on what it means to think theologically and ethically. It presents a selection of important and otherwise unavailable texts in easily accessible form. Volumes in this series will enable sustained dialogue with predecessors though reflection on classic works in the field.

About the Author
Reinhold Niebuhr (1892 - 1971) was an ethicist, theologian, and political philosopher who taught at Union Theological Seminary in New York City from 1928 to 1960. Before that, for thirteen years, he was minister of Detroit's Bethel Evangelical Church.
