3 of 4 people found the following review helpful. makes me want to have a kid just so he or she could read thisBy Kheru DjhutiI would love to have had a book like this growing up. I always had the warrior spirit but felt all the violence I saw in european books was either senseless or directed towards people that looked like me, which made me want to disassociate from myself! Why didn't we fight back? Or if we did, why didn't we ever seem to WIN? I didn't know that history is written by the victors. In our case, even when the victors lost, they were going to LIE about it any way. So naturally, I began to identify with the perpetual winners, became more and more depressed, anti black and then enraged when the victors also saw ME as prey instead of as one of them as I had longed to be. Why couldn't they see that all i wanted was to be with them, love them, be loved by them?Well, those days are gone but not forgotten which is why this book resonates with me. Kids need the full experience. They need to see not just how much their parents, family, neighbors and friends love them, but that we are willing to FIGHT for them. Our ancestors DID and sometimes they WON.3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. I love, love, love Angela Freeman!!!By OnlyTruthAwesome book for all African children and adults for that matter; worldwide!! Rarely is the truth ever told. Angela Freeman is that rarity!!1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Frank E Edwards IVAmazing work!!

Sankofa SuperHerus teaches Afrikans about our beloved leaders in an exciting new way. This book is designed for elders to read along with younger generations. Sankofa SuperHerus provides a brief summary of several revolutionaries, offering just enough information to encourage further study. Use this book as a foundation to become an expert in ancient and modern Afrikan history. After reading each story, feel free to enrich your learning with further investigation, book reports, role play, art projects, or creating songs about each figure. Let's make "ourstory" fun! Abibifahodie! (Afrikan liberation!)
