M.J. Kister : Society and Religion from Jahiliyya to Islam (Variorum Collected Studies) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Society and Religion from Jahiliyya to Islam (Variorum Collected Studies):

In this second collection of his articles, Professor Kister has continued his investigation into the social and religious history of Arabia. The papers are based essentially on a study of the traditions preserved in the early Arabic sources, many unpublished. As the author demonstrates, these sources represent an invaluable mine of information on the history and religious life of pre-Islamic Arabia and on the transformations that affected customs, law and beliefs after the coming of Islam. Particular articles also deal with such questions as the relations and confrontation between nascent Islam and Judaism and Christianity, the contacts between tribal society and sedentary population, and the emergence of new popular customs and beliefs. Dans ce second recueil d'articles, le professeur Kister, poursuit ses recherches sur l'histoire sociale et religieuse de l'Arabie. Les essais sont essentiellement basés sur une étude des traditions conservées par les premières sources arabes, dont beaucoup n'ont jamais été publiées. Ainsi que l'auteur le démontre, ces sources représentent une mine d'information inestimable sur la vie religieuse et l'histoire de l'Arabie pré-islamique et sur les changements qui affectent coutumes, lois et croyances après l'avènement de l'Islam. Certains articles, traitent plus particulièrement, de sujets, tels les rapports et les affrontements entre la force naissante de l'Islam et le Judaïsme et Christianisme pré-existants; ou encore des contacts entre société tribale et population sédentaire, ainsi que de l'émergence de nouvelles coutumes et croyances populaires.

'Following up on Kister's earlier Variorum volume (Studies in Jahiliyya and Early Islam, 1980), it makes his research up to the mid-1980s readily available in convenient form.' Der Islam About the Author M.J. Kister, Emeritus, Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel
