Institutions, religion, church, business, family, and Individuals in today's society. A well written, engaging and easy read. This book makes one think Conformity to the status quo is a directive society tries to motivate within people daily; agreeing to the desires of power, fame and money that has saturated our nation. However, what if God has called you to be The Individual, which is the thought behind author Steve Spinnett's new book. The "individual" is one who challenges religious institutions, as well as political institutions, to trust in the unseen instead of placing uneven faith and security in institutions. Steve sees that every person is given a God-given commission to make an impact for God's kingdom, while living like Jesus within this fallen world. The book is to encourage personal study and devotion among readers, as they read of historical figures and leaders who bypassed following the status quo to embrace their individual responsibilities, some even becoming reformers of faith. Be the individual: say no to conformity and yes to God's purposes.
